Is new library group first step to privatisation?

A HONITON pressure group has called for a delay in turning Devon County Council's (DCC) public library service into a mutual company, saying it is effectively a move towards privatisation.

It was announced last week that DCC's libraries are to be run by a public service mutual named Libraries Unlimited. DCC says the new organisation, which will be owned by staff and the community, will become effective in April next year.

DCC will remain responsible for the library service, but will commission the delivery of the service from Libraries Unlimited, which will be managed by a chief executive and led by a board of trustees recruited from library staff, library friends groups and independent members of the public. But Honiton Senior Voice (a pressure group for the over 50s) is sceptical.

Spokesman Tony Simpson said: "The policy of divesting the county of its library service to a so called Public Service Mutual (PSM) was promoted by Trade and Industry Minister Francis Maude with transitional Government funding.

"The proposals presented to Cabinet are in effect a move towards privatisation of our public library service since Maude wants to open up public services to the market. The Government role is not fully made clear."

The move is set to secure the future of all 50 of DCC's libraries and save DCC a further £1.5 million in addition to the £3 million it has already saved from its library service budget over the past three years.

Libraries Unlimited chairman Julie Dent says there is a rigorous five-year business plan and she is confident

by Anders Larsson

that "an affordable, sustainable and innovative library service for Devon" can be delivered and save money at the same time.

She explained: "This is a landmark day for Devon's libraries as we begin a new chapter in what I'm confident will be a bright and successful future. Operating as an independent organisation will allow us to access new grants and funding opportunities, but we also need to be more dynamic and entrepreneurial in our approach.

"Maximising the use of libraries by hiring space to others and working with partners and the wider business community to provide additional services are just some of the ideas we have discussed, but it won't end there.

"As well as maintaining reading, learning and information services for communities across Devon, there are plans to expand support for enterprise, digital services and residents' health and wellbeing.

"To make this a success, we've got to be ambitious. With a more concentrated focus and greater opportunities to engage more directly with customers, communities and partners we can continue to develop Devon's award winning libraries as a sustainable, modern, vibrant organisation that meets changing local needs.

Councillor Roger Croad, Devon County Council's Cabinet Member with responsibility for the library service, said: "It is not my intention to close libraries, as other authorities have done. Residents value our libraries, and the professional staff that run them, but with budgets as tight as they are, we have to think about doing things differently in order to maintain the service.

"By creating a public service mutual to run our library service we have found a way of not only saving money, but also giving the service new opportunities to allow it to grow and be sustainable for the future, as well as allowing staff and the community a real say in how the service is delivered in the future."

Recruitment to the Board of Libraries Unlimited will take place over the coming months.

Those interested in applying to become a trustee are invited to a special information event at Exeter Library on Monday November 30th. Further details will be posted online at <https://new.devon.gov.uk/futurelibraries>

Four dead in plane crash

AN INVESTIGATION is under way after four people died when a light aircraft, bound for Dunkeswell Aerodrome, came down in a Somerset field.

The accident happened just before noon last Saturday.

Four people were confirmed dead when emergency services arrived at the crash site.

The plane had taken off from Surrey and those onboard were from the same family.

Police have not revealed the identities of the four victims, from Surrey, but say they were a 56-year-old man, a 55-year-old woman, a 23-year-old woman and a man aged 20.

The plane crashed on land belonging to Higher Southey Farm.

Dave Manning of Higher Southey Farm told the BBC: "My next door neighbour came in and said a plane had come down. We went out and looked and there was basically nothing we could do.

"I took the pulse of one of the passengers. There was no pulse and we could smell aviation fuel, so we left until the emergency services arrived."

Police Supt Richard Corrigan said: "We have a specially trained family liaison officer supporting the affected family and they're being kept fully updated on our progress."

AXMINSTER School's board of governors dissolved

THE governing body at Axminster Community Primary Academy (formerly School) has been dissolved and replaced by a three-strong advisory group.

Axminster Primary Academy school is part of Acorn Multi Academy Trust (the MAT), and the move was explained in a letter to parents, saying: "The number of governors willing and able to serve has fallen and the directors judge that the existing governing body is no longer able to undertake their legal duties in governing the school effectively."

The school has been through a turbulent time, the Standards and Testing Agency ruling that pupils were "over-aided" during exams this spring, and the results will not be released.

COLYTON Residents complain to council over roads

RESIDENTS of Colyton have complained about the "deplorable" state of the local roads and the poor quality of work being carried out to repair them.

Complaints about the roads at last week's parish council meeting resulted in a passionate debate between parish councillors and county councillor Sara Randall Johnson.

A resident from Ridgeway Lane spoke during the public forum, describing the state of his road as "deplorable". "It's had virtually no money spent on it for certainly over eight years," he added.

Councillor Huntley Evans asked: "Does the county think that the system is working well, because the residents don't?"

Councillor Randall Johnson replied: "A lot of work goes on which received no complaints."

From the editor's chair World mourns for Paris

NO words can describe the horrors inflicted on the city of Paris over the weekend.

Many communities in Pulman's Country have strong links with the people of France through twinning arrangements and at this time their thoughts will be with the families with whom they have formed such strong friendships and, of course, with those who suffered so terribly in the terrorist attacks.

The international community has stood strong behind France in condemning these barbaric attacks in an act of solidarity that is rare indeed in this unstable world.

But such is the fanaticism of those willing to kill and maim innocent people enjoying a night out in the most beautiful city in the world, that we know we could be next.

As someone who spends a great deal of time in central London it's a thought that is constantly on my mind. Will my staff be safe? Should I be sending them to cover high profile events?

Since 9/11 the world has become a different place. Paris 2015 will add to the despair for all who fear for the future of the civilised world.

We must maintain faith in the ability of our world leaders to defeat those misguided and evil perpetrators of such atrocities and the march of radicalism.

There is only way to finish this column.
Je suis Paris!

♦ INTERESTING to note that the NHS body which closed community hospital beds in East Devon after a farcical public consultation has been placed into a "Success Regime" in a bid to plug a massive budget hole.

The Northern, Eastern and Western Devon Clinical Commissioning Group was identified as one of the 11 most financially challenged "healthcare economies" in the country.

This will come as no surprise to those who fought so valiantly in East Devon to keep their hospital beds.

OTTERY ST MARY New cubs pack due to demand in town

INTENSE demand has forced Scout leaders in Ottery St Mary to form another Cub pack.

They were happy to oblige and the ten-strong pack has been invested.

Leader John Green was pleased with the surge in interest for Scouting and explained: "We had so many young people on the waiting list to join our group that we decided to open a second Cub pack."

The new Cub group will meet on Wednesday evenings, but it could not have been formed without enough manpower.

New leader Ellen Daffron explained why she decided to come forward and help out, saying: "I decided to become a Cub leader to ensure that my eight-year-old did not miss out on all the great activities that Scouts get up to."

John added: "Creating opportunities for young people is what Scouting is all about and so it is thrilling that we have managed to pull it off."

"It would not have been possible had we not had the support from the parents."

SOUTH SOMERSET Home Energy Centre helps lower gas bills

HOME Energy Centres in Chard and Ilminster are at the forefront of helping residents reduce electricity and gas bills.

Originally set up in Ilminster, a second Home Energy Centre has now opened in Chard. The centre is based at Somerset Media Solutions at 2 High Street and offers general energy-efficiency information on a drop-in basis, and specialist, specific guidance available by appointment.

The initiative also brings input from Sustainable Chard on steps for householders to take on recycling and other aspects of low-carbon living.

The Home Energy Centre in Chard will work with the existing Home Energy Centre in Ilminster to provide householders in the local area with energy advice and guidance as to measures to take to reduce their energy bill.

The centre will be staffed on Wednesdays from 1pm to 5pm, but leaflets and displays are available throughout the week during office hours.

SEATON Community group quits hall project

THE future of Seaton Town Hall is unclear after a shock withdrawal by Seaton's Voice from a joint project with the town council and other bodies.

East Devon District Council (EDDC), Seaton Town Council, community group Seaton's Voice (which currently leases the building from EDDC) and co-tenants Seaton Museum have worked together on the plan to transfer ownership of the hall to the town council for about two years. But in a shock move, Seaton's Voice withdrew last week, blaming the town council.

In a statement issued on Friday November 13th, Seaton's Voice said: "That plan involved Seaton Town Council, as we believed we were working in an open, supportive and equal partnership. We were wrong."

Seaton's Voice intends to work separately to bring the hall into public ownership.

Turk's Head works begins

by Peter Hodges

"IT'S GOING to be hell but it needs to be done," was the message from Devon County Councillor Sara Randall Johnson to Honiton Town Council, as improvements to the Turk's Head Junction get underway.

The scheme will change the existing layout from a T-junction, which meets Exeter Road to connect Honiton with the A30, to a mini roundabout along with a zebra crossing on Exeter Road.

The work is scheduled to take a maximum of 20 weeks, which will take the project's completion date to somewhere before the Easter holidays.

Temporary traffic lights have been set up and will initially be manually controlled to allow site staff to monitor traffic conditions and keep queues to a minimum. The redesign will cost an estimated £500,000.

Clr Randall Johnson, county councillor for Honiton St Michael's, asked the public to be patient while the work is ongoing.

She said: "We fully understand that it will cause disruption for people, so I welcome the fact that temporary lights will initially be manually operated to minimise traffic queues.

"Although there will be short term pain, we will look forward to it being completed and the long term gain will make life easier for us all."

Councillor Stuart Hughes, Devon County Council Cabinet member for Highway Management said the improvement scheme was vital as the current junction can cause traffic queues which extend onto the A30.

"This is an extremely busy junction so every effort is being made to minimise disruption.

"While the work is being carried out we would urge people to allow extra time for their journeys through the junction and, where possible, consider alternative routes during busy times" he said.

Any enquiries about the project can be made by contacting Devon County Council's Customer Service Centre highways team on 0345 155 1004.

■ WE SHALL REMEMBER THEM: The people of Honiton remembered the fallen at an Armistice Day ceremony held outside St Paul's Church last week. Chairman of the Honiton branch of the Royal British Legion, Mick Robson, led the ceremony, where he gave the exhortation and branch president Chris Sinden the epitaph. Reverend Jane Lankester was also present as the watching crowds contended with the downpour to pay their respects.

The dangers of the road

HONITON Neighbourhood Police Team, Honiton Fire Station and the Honest Truth Partnership held a joint event which was aimed at young or inexperienced drivers and revolved around the dangers of the road.

On hand was a driving simulator which was able to demonstrate to drivers the effects of drink driving (including the use of beer goggles), distracted driving and braking distances in adverse weather conditions.

While the demonstration proved fun, it sent a message about road safety and awareness of the types of factors that might lead up to a road traffic collision (RTC).

Also available was Sergeant Olly Tayler and a specially marked up police traffic car representing the Honest Truth campaign which aims to reduce anti-social driving and the number of young people killed or seriously injured on our roads.

"The Honest Truth sees the Police, Fire and Rescue Service, Local Authority and Approved Driving Instructors working together to help reduce the number of young people being killed and seriously injured on our roads. As a young driver you can make several small changes that can stop you doing something that can ruin the rest of your life," Sgt Tayler said.

Four killed as plane crashes in field

FOUR people from the same family were killed when a Dunkswell-bound aircraft crashed into a field in Somerset last Saturday (November 14th).

The six-seater aircraft had taken off in Surrey and came down at 11.44am in Churchinford, Somerset, approximately five miles from its destination.

Police have not revealed the identities of the four victims, from Surrey, but say they were a 56-year-old man, a 55-year-old woman, a 23-year-old woman and a man aged 20.

The plane crashed on land of Higher Southey Farm.

Dave Manning of Higher Southey Farm told the BBC: "My next door neighbour came in and said a plane had come down."

"We went out and looked and there was basically nothing we could do."

"I took the pulse of one of the passengers. There was no pulse and we could smell aviation fuel, so we left until the emergency services arrived."

Police Supt Richard Corrigan said: "We have a specially trained family liaison officer supporting the affected family and they're being kept fully updated on our progress."

"Our thoughts are with them at this extremely difficult time."

"A joint investigation is under way with the Air Accidents Investigation Branch (AAIB)."

Police received a call at 11.44am on Saturday after the light aircraft crashed into a field.

They confirmed that four people - two men and two women - who were in the aircraft died in the collision.

The aircraft was heading from the Surrey area towards Dunkswell Aerodrome, near Honiton.

Officers have been working at the scene, along with crews from Devon and Somerset Fire and Rescue Service and South Western Ambulance Service.

The fire service sent three appliances, three specialist vehicles and five officers, to deal with the incident, totalling 27 personnel.

The ambulance service dispatched two land ambulances, an officer and the Exeter-based Hazardous Area Response Team.

The Exeter-based Devon Air Ambulance and the National Police Air Service helicopter also attended.

Supt Richard Corrigan said: "This is a very sad incident in which four people have tragically lost their lives."

"We've been working very closely with our colleagues from the other emergency services at the scene to make the area safe and ensure the resulting investigation can proceed."

Deer Park hotel invests in the future

DEER Park Country House Hotel is currently investing in two young people from Honiton after accepting them on their apprenticeship scheme.

The scheme, which is supported by Exeter and Heart of Devon Hotels and Restaurants Association, is able to offer apprentices varied work experience.

by Anders Larsson

Deer Park Country House is working with Bicton College to recruit apprentices; two such young recruits are George Palmer York and Jordan Yates, who are completing garden and kitchen apprenticeships respectively.

George, 21, is working towards a Level Two Diploma in Horticulture and returns to Bicton College for one week in every six.

His typical day at Deer Park includes morning checks in the walled garden and upkeep of the grounds.

George said: "An apprenticeship at a private house and estate looks really good on your CV when you are working towards a career in horticulture.

"I'm feeling really positive about this opportunity and it is going so well I'd like to stay at Deer Park and aim for a head gardener role in the future."

Jordan, 22, worked for a security firm but had a change of heart that led to the catering trade.

The role of kitchen porter at Deer Park fired his interest and he is now the River Cottage apprentice working towards an NVQ Level 2 in professional cookery.

Mark Godfrey, treasurer of the Devon Hotels Association and managing director of Deer Park

Country House Hotel, said: Investing in young people is something we take a great deal of pride in here.

"We've never been disappointed because in our experience apprentices work really hard and bring with them new ideas from which we all benefit."

■ FOLLOWING on from the success of last year's 'King Lear,' drama students at Honiton Community College are currently rehearsing an exciting new production of Shakespeare's most tragic tale – 'Othello'.

Tom Hatcher will take on the title role of Othello – noble and brave, a victorious war hero who comes back from battle and unknowingly faces his toughest challenge.

'Honest' Iago, played by Jack Haigh, who has Machiavellian plans to ruin Othello's life.

The conflict between Othello and Iago is one of the most chilling and emotionally deep conflicts in literature, with the themes of temptation, jealousy, revenge, and unconditional love resonating with all ages.

Performances at the college

Shakespeare returns to the stage at college are on November 20th & 21st at 7pm.

Tickets are £6.50 each and can be purchased from the college reception.

Last year's production of 'King Lear' raised £500 for the new East Devon Day Hospice garden and, this year, funds raised will support the maintenance of the garden.

ADVERTISER'S ANNOUNCEMENT

New owners at The White Hart

WILMINGTON is reaping the rewards thanks to new owners at The White Hart Inn.

Angela Docherty and South African Philipp Marias were tired of living in Philipp's homeland and Portsmouth born Angela had always wanted to run a pub in England, so the couple decided to up sticks and move to Devon – after consulting with Angela's British friends.

"They all recommended Devon and after looking at eight different places from Dorset to Cornwall we found

The White Hart Inn and I immediately loved it."

Angela, who is a former swimming school instructor left South Africa, leaving Phillip to finish up his work as a policeman and moved into the White Hart Inn to be schooled in how it runs, with help from the previous owner.

Phillip joined Angela a few months later and the duo say they have felt very welcomed by the local community.

Despite the appearance of The White Hart being a 'passer-by' pub, the steady stream of locals have helped the couple feel right at home.

The pub now produces a monthly newsletter to let customers know what's happened and what's happening.

A quiz night, on the last Sunday of the month, will be introduced as will a 'Knit and Natter' group to go alongside the skittle matches and bingo events that have already started.

The pub will also hold an indoor table top sale on Saturday, November 21st from 9am to 12pm and tables can be booked for £5.

Carnival grants presented to local groups

SEATON Carnival Committee held its AGM this week to announce their results and give out donations to local groups that had helped collect money on carnival night.

Carnival committee chairman Kevin Frost said that the 50th year of Seaton Carnival was a great success, that there were more procession entries than in the past, the weather was good and most events were profitable.

He thanked the Seaton Carnival Royal Party, who achieved first prize awards at four of the local carnivals on the East Devon circuit, and the many collectors on carnival night who helped to raise a magnificent amount, which is always donated to local groups.

He gave a special, personal thank you to treasurer June Millman, who stood in as chairman on many occasions despite her other roles in the carnival.

June said that the carnival had been a great success money wise despite the handicap of being the first on the carnival circuit.

June Millman then listed the events, the money raised and profits made, announcing that programme sales generated £2,000 and street collections a further £2,000.

She proudly announced that the Queen's Float raised £490 in prize money.

Carnival committee president Roger Woodland and the royal party presented the donations to the following groups and individuals: Seaton Martial Arts, Seaton Decor, Natural Seaton Festival, Police Benevolent Fund, Axminster Young Farmers, Seaton British Legion, Seaton Fire Brigade, Seaton Drama Club, RNLI, Bellini Bathers, Jenny Weber, Devon Freewheelers, Seaton Brownies, Seaton Memory Club and Seaton Majorettes.

■ CARNIVAL BOOST: The Seaton Carnival Royal Party and representatives from the organisations who received donations from the carnival committee

■ UNIFORM SWAP FOR CHOC: A non-uniform day saw Seaton Primary School inundated with chocolate. The event was held on November 6th where pupils could ditch the uniform if they brought in chocolate for the Christmas Bazaar tombola. The bazaar itself will be held on Thursday, December 3rd from 5.30pm-7.30pm.

Third time's a charm

KEITH Legg was delighted to finally land his first trophy – after two previous attempts – at the Beer Autumn (formerly Charm) Show in the Mariners' Hall last week.

Mr Legg, who lives in Axmouth where he was born and bred, won the Blackmore Cup for Best Shape and the Tucker Cup for best visitor.

He said: "I am delighted to win. I have to give credit to John Lang [chairman of the Beer Horticultural Society] as he has given me a lot of advice and has been brilliant in helping me and getting me into growing charms.

"But as far as I am concerned it doesn't matter whether I win or lose, it is all about supporting these local village shows and making sure they survive."

by Kevin Fahey

Mr Lang didn't go empty-handed either as he won the Geoff Hunt Cup for most points for cut chrysanthemums, while the Alf Boalch Cup for best Beer Charm went to Dave Mutter.

"Once again it was a lovely show and I would like to thank everyone who entered and helped with the organisation," said club president Ursula Makepeace.

The hall was ablaze with the different colours of the charms and lots of cut chrysanthemums to admire.

The sun came out as soon as the show opened and organisers were delighted to welcome a large number of visitors.

Grammar school's head of resources retires after 25 years

AFTER 25 years, one of Colyton Grammar School's longest-serving members of support staff has retired. At the end of October Colyford resident Hazel Webb left the school, having worked her way up to head of resources.

Beginning her career in February 1991, almost at the beginning of the IT revolution, Mrs Webb spent much of her time in reprographics and word processing.

As time passed, she became head of the resources department in the school and the operation moved to a bespoke area adjacent to the library, away from the glorified store cupboard she once occupied!

Not only has she been a vital part of the school's working day for staff and students requiring help with their work, she was also the main first aid post in the school, regularly dealing with nose bleeds, grazed knees, fainting incidents or broken bones.

Mrs Webb described one of her fondest memories of the school as socialising by the side of the swimming pool, previously located on the site of the sixth form study centre, during the summer months.

Keeping an ever-watchful eye over a misbehaving laminator, Mrs Webb said the best part of her job was "meeting everyone", describing both staff and students as "all lovely!"

Mrs Webb now looks forward to spending more time with her grandchildren, exploring the great outdoors and getting to grips with her leaving present – a lovely state-of-the-art sewing machine.

Festive fun planned for next month's Memory Cafe

ONCE again, the November meeting of the Colyton and Colyford Memory Cafe was a "great success", with new members continuing to join the sessions.

Entertainment was provided at this month's session by Emily Miller who, whilst playing her ukulele, sang such classics as George Formby's "Leaning on a Lamppost" with those attending joining in the chorus with much enthusiasm!

Everyone agreed that Emily is a terrific performer and it is hoped she will return for a future session.

The next Memory Cafe will be held on Wednesday, December

2nd in St John Hall, King Street, Colyton, when a group of pupils from Colyton Primary School will be entertaining members with a selection of Christmas songs.

There will also be a Christmas quiz, a personal performance of festive music by Val Howels and lots of tea, cakes and chat.

So if you, a friend or a loved one is experiencing memory loss or has been diagnosed with early dementia, you're sure to be greeted with a warm welcome.

Pamper evening to raise funds for unique charity

A CHARITY pamper evening will be held in aid of The Wedding Wishing Well Foundations, at the Reece Strawbridge Centre in Colyton on Friday, November 27th.

The event will be held from 7pm to 10pm and treatments available will include mini manicures, massages, eyelash flicks, spray tans, facials, reflexology, and hair up-dos, as well as close-up magic by Jack Ward Magic, and refreshments.

There will also be an opportunity to purchase your Christmas gifts and treat yourself, with stalls from the Body Shop, Scentsy, Actiderm, Forever Living, and Younique Make Up and Jewellery, as well as a raffle with some truly amazing prizes.

The Wedding Wishing Well Foundation is a local charity that organises and raises funds for weddings for those affected by terminal and life limiting illness.

The charity's founder, Naomi, is no stranger to such heartbreak, having been diagnosed with incurable secondary cancer five years ago, just six days after her little boy was born. Having married her soul mate, Graham, thanks to the generosity of others, Naomi decided to help others to marry the love of their life before it's too late.

All of the proceeds from the pamper event, including entry sales, donations, and the cost of raffle tickets, will be donated to the charity.

Tickets cost £5, which includes a drink upon arrival. Entry is strictly limited so to book a place contact Alix on 07725 256 820, or email alix@weddingwishingwell.org.uk

Have a try with Axminster Art Society

ONE of East Devon's key art societies is based in Axminster, meeting in nearby Musbury Village Hall.

Visitors and new members are always welcome to just come along to enjoy the demonstrations, meet members over a cup of tea and perhaps have a go at one of the workshops, no experience needed.

Members of the Society are a mixed bunch: while most are amateurs there are semi-professionals and even some professionals within the ranks. What all have in common is an interest in learning more about art and developing artistic skills while having fun at the same time.

The eight demonstrations each year are presented by professional artists who talk through what they are doing as they demonstrate. This month (tomorrow evening, Wednesday 18th), well-known artist Ray Balkwell is giving an illustrated talk about his beloved Exmouth estuary. The December meeting is the AGM and Christmas Party and, in the New Year 2016, President Lynda White will demonstrate glazing techniques on January 20th.

There are seven workshops a year – full-day, hands-on events run by professional artists, carrying an extra charge (£22 for members and £25 for visitors) – and each year the Society's president, a practising artist running her own business, gives a critique on the work brought to the meeting by members. This is a wonderful opportunity to get professional feedback and everybody learns by listening to the advice given to others. Non-members are welcome at these meetings although only members may submit work.

The Society usually runs three exhibitions a year although, again, only fully paid-up members may exhibit. To date, the major exhibition has been held in a dedicated marquee at the prestigious Axe Vale Festival of Gardening and Craft, with two exhibitions in Axminster – in the gallery at Trinity House and in the Arts Café, and sometimes at Otter Nurseries. Exhibiting is soon to take place in The Apple Tree Gallery in Axminster.

However, it is not all work. Two social events are held each year: the Christmas Party is combined with the AGM and includes mulled wine and mince pies; the summer event involves a Devon cream tea.

Those who join the Society will find themselves amongst a group of friendly, like-minded people. A few members don't paint at all but just like the activities on offer. Why not give it a try by coming to a meeting as a visitor? The £4 charge to non members is set against the subscription, currently £20 a year.

The Art Society has a website, www.axminsterartsociety.uk – for more details on the demonstrations, scroll through the 2016 programme, clicking on the artist's name. For further information you could contact Anthea Bareham on 01460 221088.

Seaton Probus

HAVING been intrigued by the title of last week's talk, 'Legless in Luton, Headless in Harrogate', Seaton Men's Probus was treated to one of the best presentations of the year. Valerie Sutherland entertained with tales of her professional role as a Stage Magician's Assistant. The title was just an outline of the various tricks and illusions in which she performed, the working details of which were much too valuable to share with Club members.

The next meeting will be at 10am on Wednesday, 18th November at St Gregory's Church Hall, with a talk on the activities of the Flicker Foundation Donkey Sanctuary. (New members: Stephen Lord 01297 21872).

Axminster Probus

AXMINSTER Probus Club is fortunate in the quality of its speakers.

Its November meeting was no exception when Clinton Bonner from Ilminster provided 'Tales of an English Butcher'.

Bonner's Butchers was established over 40 years ago by Clinton's father, then one of five similar establishments in the town. Today they are the sole representatives of butchery in Ilminster. When Clinton joined the business after four years learning his trade in London, they were still slaughtering their own meat and producing cuts according to customers' requirements. Meat is now slaughtered off-site and a kitchen prepares value-added products.

The arrival of supermarkets provided many challenges leading to thousands of butchers going out of business. Bonner's survived and today offers a wide range of burgers, kebabs, sausages, marinades, etc in addition to traditional charcuterie.

One customer was a regular purchaser of 'gluten free'

Axe Valley Devonshire Association

AT his richly-illustrated lecture last week Dr Robin Wootton, zoology teacher at Exeter University for 41 years, amazed his audience at Colyton's Peace Memorial Pavilion with beautiful slides of creatures so small they can only be observed with the aid of a sophisticated microscope. The display was more remarkable given its 19th century beginnings when microscopy was a still a science in its infancy.

Wootton's talk, 'The Hudson Transparencies', was built round his rediscovery of the extraordinary exploratory work by the previously unsung Dr CT Hudson (1828-1902), who was an equally inventive and accomplished Devon colleague of Philip Goss, then the most famous English naturalist since Darwin.

Using the best microscope available to him, and his skill as an illustrator who knew about colour, Dr Hudson made his transparencies as a lecture aid.

By chance Dr Wootton found them gathering dust in a cupboard behind his Exeter lecture theatre, a place where the climate was just right for their preservation. As soon as he uncovered the first two or three he realised he had found a treasure trove from the 1860s and beyond.

He took on the task of making the drawings clear and compiling a meticulous catalogue of fine details previously hidden from the human eye, taking a special interest in rotifers, multi-celled animals too small to be seen by the naked human eye.

He clearly has enough material for public television showing and his one regret is that TV producers are only interested in furry animals and others large enough to be easily seen.

products and eventually asked Clinton to explain what gluten was. After learning that it was basically wheat she admitted she had no special health regime, she just thought she was getting something for nothing!

The business has been run over the years by reliable and long-serving staff, but Mr Bonner told the meeting how difficult it was proving to attract young employees – the handling of raw meat being an obstacle along with the length of the working day.

Probus members had many questions for the speaker and will no doubt be taking a closer interest in their future meat menus.

The Axminster Probus Club for retired and semi-retired business and professional men meets in a private room at the A35 Pit Stop, Gammons Hill, Kilmington on the first Tuesday of each month. Prospective members are always welcome. For further information ring 01460 220528.

Icing Occasions moves to new Colyton shop

PROFESSIONAL cake makers Icing Occasions has opened a new kitchen and shop at the Wheeler's Yard business park in Colyton.

Having previously had a shop in Honiton, owner Cathryn Andrews moved to Colyton a year ago and has been baking cakes from home since. But with her new premises, she'll now have plenty of space to expand the business.

As well as continuing to offer her beautifully-decorated, bespoke cakes for special occasions and a buffet catering service, Cathryn will be offering balloons, party decorations and more, making her new premises a "one stop shop" for weddings and parties.

The shop also stocks a vast range of cake decorating equipment, and will be hiring out cake stands and tins for budding bakers. There will also be a baking book "library", from which customers will be able to borrow baking books for a donation to Cathryn's chosen charity, the Hughes Syndrome Foundation.

Cathryn said she wanted to open a shop in Colyton because "there's nothing like it in the local area", and her business has been met with positive response from residents.

She is now keen to get the local community as involved as possible and will be opening up her kitchen for children's "bake-off" birthday parties, an after school club and sugar craft and modelling workshops in the New Year. Cathryn is also keen to involve local groups such as the WI and schools.

"I want to make cooking fun, especially for children, because if it's not fun they won't be interested in it."

"I hope to offer something a bit different to everyone else and attract people from the wider area to Colyton."

Cathryn, who was a regional finalist for the 2015 Wedding Industry Awards and nominated for the 5 Star Service Wedding Awards, is also hoping to host a wedding fair at her new premises next year.

The new shop is currently open 3pm to 8pm Monday to Friday, 7am to 4pm on Saturdays and 10am to 4pm on Sundays.

Solar panels and tourism: the need for vigilance

■ SOLAR panels are fine – as long as they are in the right place. But what is the right place? There is general consensus that they are OK on commercial and industrial sites, and there is even a view that they should be made mandatory on all such new developments on land that is south-facing.

Constructing them on green field sites, particularly those that are designated as Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty or Areas of Great Landscape Value, is quite another matter. Travellers along the B3165 from Crewkerne to Lyme Regis will have seen the swathes of land on either side of the road as it approaches the Hunters Lodge junction with the A35, now blanketed in solar panels. Closely-packed, black, menacing, they have all the appearance of a well-disciplined alien army from another planet, marching across the hills, currently occupying 140 acres, advancing from the south towards the village of Hawkchurch, the 'Village of Roses', where Dorset meets Devon.

A further development to construct another 'solar park', totalling 30 acres to the north of Hawkchurch, near the confluence of the River Blackwater and the River Axe, was conceived, and there seemed to be no way of stopping its birth. Despite objections from over 150 electors, supported by a well-considered letter from the Chairman of the Council for the Preservation of Rural England, the East Devon Planners recommended its approval. Fortunately common sense has prevailed, the Committee has ignored that advice and this week the proposal has been rejected.

The arguments in favour of 'solar farms' have been weakened considerably. There appears to be no compelling reason for any of these developments, as Government has confirmed that the 2020 target for renewable energy has already been met. Can further plans be halted? Only, it seems, if the role of the planners is closely monitored. Three miles further up the Blackwater another plan covering over 30 acres of precious Dorset countryside near Sadborrow has been proposed. The land is in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. That description will need to be amended to 'Area of Extreme Ugliness' if it is sanctioned. Visitors to the South West walking the Liberty Trail and the Wessex Ridgeway (the latter actually bisecting the land in the proposal) are unlikely to be impressed by the change in view that will meet them if West Dorset sanctions the scheme. The impact on tourism has not been given sufficient weight in the solar energy debate.

Elizabeth Truss, the Environment Minister in the last Government, expressed the view, very strongly, that she did not want English farmland to be blighted by solar farms. "Farming is what our farms are for, and it is what keeps our landscape beautiful. Solar Panels are best placed on the half million acres of south facing industrial rooftops," she said. What a pity that she was not successful in having her views converted into policy. The UK farming community has long argued that they are the true custodians of the countryside, and that it is safe in their hands without external interference. By and large the public has supported that view, but there are bound to be serious doubts if this trend of industrialising the countryside continues. Tourism is a major sector in the economy of the South West, and indeed many in the farming community have diversified into tourism. Entrepreneurship should be rewarded but we need to get the balance right. It cannot be fair that one or two farming families can dedicate their land to solar farms, assuring themselves a secure income for the next couple of decades, while the rest of the community and particularly those involved in tourism pay the bill?

Unless we are vigilant we may well discover, too late, that in the 21st century we have created a new industrial landscape in our precious countryside that will match the ugliness of the dark satanic mills of 19th century Northern England. Those who are concerned should view the respective Councils' websites (East Devon/Planning/15/0645/MFUL and West Dorset/Planning WD/D/15/001863), examine the proposals, see the decisions that the Planners are making in their name and comment accordingly.

Got the wrong coat?

■ I HAVE realised that I am wearing a coat which is similar to my own, but is not the right one. It is a burgundy rain jacket, with a quilted lining. I know I had my own until Monday 2nd November, and realised I was wearing the wrong one on Thursday 5th November. Between those dates the only places I took my coat off were in Finishing Touches coffee shop on Tuesday and the dentist in Fore Street on Tuesday and Wednesday. I am not at all sure how the swap took place, but I suppose it is easily done.

If anyone has my coat, I will be pleased to make the exchange, please email me at lynmarshall21@yahoo.co.uk.

Green Wedge

■ THE following item appeared in the Daily Telegraph this week and we felt this couldn't be more apt with regard to the current situation relating to the planning application submitted by Seaton Park (Devon) Ltd, to build houses in the Green Wedge area of Seaton, east of Harepath Road.

To quote:

"Rural areas dying from over-building, says MP"

Rural communities are facing 'death by a thousand cuts' from builders imposing inappropriate developments on towns and villages across the country, a ministerial aide has said.

Alec Shelbrooke MP, Parliamentary Private Secretary to pensions minister Priti Patel, said councils were allowing developers to ignore brownfield and build on the edges of rural habitations. In the Commons, he said "Don't give us death by a thousand cuts when you are adding and doubling the size of villages in the area with absolutely no infrastructure improvements".

We urge all who feel strongly to oppose this application, so that we too don't suffer "death by a thousand cuts".

Speed Watch

■ YOUR recent report on Community Speed Watch in Colyford prompts me to ask you publish a short update on the same activity in Rousdon on the A3052. We are a smaller group of volunteers but, as one of the first teams established within the Devon & Cornwall Constabulary's care, have been in action for over five years now. Three reasons 'got us going' – concern at the frequency with which drivers exceeded the 40 mph limit (which had taken many years of pressure to set up), awareness that volunteers were being trained in Somerset and the encouragement and direction given us by our then Neighbourhood Beat Manager PC Steve Speariett.

Within the last year we have checked over 3,000 vehicles, and recorded about 100 for follow up. 60 mph was the year's highest figure, and speeds of 50 plus occur quite frequently. Whilst a very different situation to Colyford the centre of Rousdon is a busy junction at times, and pedestrians often need to cross to and from the Rousdon Estate, especially, and the bus stops.

When will MP stand up for women?

■ I WAS dismayed to see that our MP, Neil Parish, supported keeping VAT on women's sanitary products.

VAT is applied to tampons because they are seen as "non-essential luxury items".

Mr Parish does not have periods but if he was a woman he would realise that tampons are not a luxury – you cannot choose whether to menstruate.

More than 50 per cent of his constituents are women so when is Mr Parish going to stand up for them?

Octogenarian is a skydiver at last

AN 80-year-old skydiving beginner from Kilminster raised almost £600 for Hospiscare when she "was pushed" out of an airplane.

Claudette Bowden decided to try skydiving for the first time to mark her 80th birthday.

by Anders Larsson
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

Her birthday was on April 1st and the skydive was pencilled in for June 20th as part of Hospiscare's participation in a world record attempt for the most number of people making a skydive in a day.

Dunkeswell-based Skydive Buzz (then known as Skydive UK) was behind the attempt and hoped to regain its world record from last year.

Its previous world record was 281 jumps but an American team then managed a total of 286. Bad weather meant that the attempt, including Claudette's jump, got cancelled.

Those who had signed up were offered to do their skydives on another day, though, and Claudette rescheduled for September 19th.

The descent took six minutes, and she said: "I didn't jump, I was pushed. The wind hit my face and I thought 'What am I doing?'"

"But from then on I enjoyed it."

Hospiscare's Celia Wilkinson watched the skydive, and said when collecting the cheque: "We are really grateful.

She has raised such a fab amount and was so brave."

Claudette praised everyone who sponsored her, and also thanked family and friends, Kilminster Postscript, Mr Miller at the farm shop and Chris McDonald of East Devon District Council for help and support in various ways.

Warm welcome greets soggy runners after Yarcombe Yomp

■ RAIN and mud-soaked runners were rewarded with warm village hospitality after Yarcombe Yomp.

Runners had a choice of 10-miles or five miles on Saturday, November 7th.

The event was organised by Axe Valley Runners and Yarcombe Village Hall as a fundraiser for the latter.

The race HQ was at the hall, and runners were treated to a choice of soup and other refreshments after having crossed the finishing line.

Race co-organiser Robin Carter said the event raised just over £650, and she praised landowners, runners, marshals, hall volunteers and everybody else who helped out and supported the annual event.

Youngsters' interest in wildlife grows

DEVON children are bucking a national trend by taking an active interest in wildlife.

Results from a new YouGov poll, commissioned by The Wildlife Trusts, highlight a discrepancy between what parents think is best for children and what they actually experience.

The poll shows that, nationally, 78 per cent of parents are concerned that children don't spend enough time interacting with nature and wildlife.

But Devon Wildlife Trust (DWT) has noticed a growing demand for its expertise in providing a connection between children and wildlife. DWT's Paul Martin said: "We're trying to lead the way in outdoor learning and early nature experiences through our Wildlife Watch groups, school outreach work, volunteering opportunities, and the huge number of wild events that we offer every year.

"We hope Every Child Wild will get people talking and sharing ideas about how we can all help to put the wild back in childhood.

"We need to empower families, teachers and schools to ensure children have access to nature and to engage with it on a regular basis.

"Together, we are all nurturing the next generation of naturalists, animal-lovers, birdwatchers, explorers, scientists, campaigners and politicians to try and slow the decline of nature."

Lucy McRobert, The Wildlife Trusts' Nature Matters campaign manager, said: "We know that first-hand contact with nature is good for children.

"It makes them happier, healthier and more creative and for some it can have a life-changing impact.

"But there's a gap between what society intuitively knows is best for children and what they're actually getting. The results of our poll illustrate that some children are missing out on the contact with nature their parents and grandparents are likely to have known. This is partly due to the changes in our everyday lives and partly due to diminishing opportunities: wild places are vanishing and wild animals such as starlings and hedgehogs have declined massively over the past 50 years.

"Parents clearly think it is important for children to have outdoor experiences and we need to help schools make the most of opportunities for them to discover nature.

"There are some creative teachers using wildlife and wild places to engage and enthuse pupils but we need to help nature become a more central part of school life, enabling more children to have special wildlife moments close to home."

Apprentice reaches finals of national competition

A 20-YEAR-OLD from Axminster, who works in Honiton, has been named as a finalist in a national apprenticeship competition.

Jess Rowden is one of 14 finalists in five industry sectors to be chosen from more than 600 entrants for the Lifetime Learner Achievement Awards 2015.

Organised by apprenticeship training provider Lifetime Training, winners will be announced at a ceremony at Tower of London on Tuesday November 24th.

The awards recognise, reward and celebrate the personal successes and resulting career development of individuals that have completed a qualification with the company.

Jess left school after her GCSEs and began working in restaurants to earn a living.

A driven young lady, Jess wanted more. She dreamt of a lifelong career that would provide many learning opportunities.

When she was given the chance to complete an apprenticeship through Lifetime, she knew this was her chance to shine.

And she's certainly doing just that; two years into her job, Jess won the Expertise Award at Nu-Heat Ltd in Honiton.

A Lifetime Training spokesperson said: "Successfully completing her Level 2 and 3 in Business Administration, Jess is now a confident, mature and professional young woman making her mark in the workplace."

"Tasked with creating a brand new training manual for the company, Jess developed the resource from scratch with both her trainer and employer commenting on her professionalism and exceptional approach to the manual."

Jess said: "My confidence has grown so much since completing my NVQ, in both my personal life and at work."

"It gave me a good understanding of the working world, the office environment and career progression. I love working as part of a team and having the ability and creativity to voice new ideas and opinions."

Alex Khan, CEO of Lifetime Training, said: "The Learner Achievement Awards are one of the highlights in Lifetime's annual calendar."

"All the nominees and, of course, the winners have worked incredibly hard during their learning journey and their success for this prestigious national recognition is testament to that."

"Jess can be very proud of her achievements and I wish her the very best for her future career."

Tourism awards finalists announced

THE best of East Devon has been recognised, as this year's Devon Tourism Awards finalists have been announced.

Representatives from Sidmouth, Honiton, Colyton, Axminster and Ottery St Mary have all picked up nominations and will wait with bated breath for the prestigious ceremony on November 26th at the Holiday Inn in Plymouth.

Ottery's Mazzard Farm and Colyton's Higher Wiscombe both have three nominations each. Mazzard Farm has made the list of finalists in International Visitor Experience, Self Catering and the Sustainable Tourism Award. Higher Wiscombe also has nominations in Self Catering and sustainability but their third nomination is in the Dog Friendly Accommodation category.

River Cottage HQ near Musbury is a finalist in the Artistic, Cultural and Learning Experience category up against stiff competition from Plymouth and Chudleigh. Oakdown County Holiday Park in Sidmouth has been nominated for the Camping and Caravanning Park section. Dukes in Sidmouth is a finalist in the much coveted Pub of the Year and Axminster Tourist Information Centre is one of two finalists in the Tourist Information Service category. Finally, Honiton based Deer Park Country House and Hotel is a finalist in the venue and business Tourism Award section.

The Chairman of the Awards Panel, David Fursdon, said: "The Devon Tourism Awards have shown once again that this county has a wonderful group of hardworking and imaginative entrepreneurs whose tourism businesses are a credit to them; a source of pride to those of us who live here and act as a powerful magnet to those who visit."

Visit Devon Chairman, Victoria Hatfield, commented: "It is an inspiration to see the year-on-year investment in quality that keeps Devon at the forefront of tourism. This year's list of finalists is longer than ever and I offer my congratulations to them all."

Christmas in Ilminster

DON'T MISS ILMINSTER'S VICTORIAN EVENING ON FRIDAY 27th NOVEMBER

CHRISTMAS HAS ARRIVED - IN TRUE VICTORIAN STYLE!

On Friday 27th November the people of Ilminster will be truly in the Christmas Spirit with their annual Victorian Evening and Christmas light switch on. This year the lights will be even better than ever. The Market House will be transformed with even better roof lights and the whispers are that there will be several new installations around town too. And every light is LED so they are eco-friendly as well.

Things get off to a flying start during the day on Friday when there will be Children's Choirs from 6 local schools singing Christmas songs and carols in the Market House. This will start with Neroche School at 10.00am, followed by Greenfylde at 11.00am, Hambridge at 1.30pm, Ilton at 2.15pm, Swanmead at 3.00pm and ending with East Coker at 4.00pm. Come along and help kick off the Victorian Night in terrific spirit!

This year the Lantern Parade will be spectacular with the Town Crier leading the parade followed by Father Christmas in his brand new eco-Santa-Sleigh. After this, the entrants in the Victorian Fancy Dress Costume will lead the Children's Lantern Parade with – for the first time – large-scale lanterns bringing up the rear. Over 120 people are expected to join in the parade, which starts at 6.30pm from Greenfylde School so do get down a bit earlier to enjoy it as it travels along Silver Street to the Market Square.

Remember, there is £50 in vouchers for spending in Ilminster as the first prize in the Victorian Fancy Dress Competition. This is open to all ages, singles, pairs, groups, children, grand parents, whoever. Just turn up to Greenfylde School (Silver Street entrance) before 6.15pm on the night to collect your number, and you will be judged before 6.30pm. The winner will be announced after the lights switch-on at 7pm.

Don't forget there is the raffle to see who will switch the lights on. Starting in the next few days you will find boxes in Bonners, Harrimans, Ilminster Home Hardware and Cottage Flowers until Wednesday 25th November where you can enter your name - or maybe someone else such as your grand child - to be picked out of the hat. It only costs £1 and the proceeds go towards the cost of the Victorian Night. Please make sure that you nominate someone who would be prepared to switch on the lights though!

All this plus great hot food (try the fabulous crêpes this year) and drinks. There will be three bands and – new this year – at the end of Silver Street near The Green House, there will be a Victorian Games Fair.

The Victorian Night really is the start of Christmas in Ilminster, so come along and enjoy yourselves, and start your Christmas shopping in our specialist shops, many of them will be offering special discounts on the night!

WHAT'S HAPPENING THIS YEAR...

Whitney Farm

Free Range Christmas Geese from only £34

A tasty Whitney Farm Christmas Goose can be delivered or collected on 23rd December, in time for the special day. All geese are prepared and ready to be placed in the oven.

Buy a free range Christmas Goose and support Young Somerset Farmers

FOR generations the Dunning family have been rearing geese in Somerset, so for 32-year-old Dan Dunning it's all he's ever known. Now striving to make a farming success Dan and Sarah are running their own farm business near Ilminster whilst building a family home for their 2 daughters.

After leaving his well-known family business at Goose Slade Farm in East Coker and studying for an HND in Agricultural Management at Cannington College, Dan took his expertise and put together an ambitious business plan for the future of Whitney Farm. In 2007 Dan and Sarah applied with approximately 60 other ambitious young farmers and were successful in being offered the tenancy by the council. Dan said "I was really pleased to be offered the opportunity to run my own farm in Somerset. It is a really difficult business to get into at my age."

At Whitney Farm, Dan and Sarah have set up a business rearing geese as well as native breeds of cattle. In their first year Dan and Sarah managed to sell their total flock of 1000 geese and are also selling special beef boxes to satisfy local demand. "My grandfather was a goose farmer, and also my dad and brother and now I'm carrying on the tradition."

This year the aspiring couple want to do better than ever and bring in a new customer base who respect the traditional methods of rearing required to produce such a tasty, healthy range of meat and poultry. Dan said: "I've been rearing geese my whole life so now I'm really pleased I'm able to rear my own. The geese from Whitney Farm are fed with locally grown corn and reared using traditional methods, everything here is free range and we can offer complete traceability."

Despite the rising cost of running a farm and the fact that goose feed has nearly doubled in price the Dunnings have held their goose prices to help those struggling in the current financial climate. By buying straight from Whitney Farm, customers are guaranteed quality and taste and can be sure that the animals have been reared with high welfare standards. Dan said "We like all our animals to have a really good and happy life here at Whitney Farm."

Hazelwell Lodge

Specialist Residential Care

HAZELWELL Lodge is a 35 bed Care Home for the elderly situated in Parish town Ilminster in South West Somerset. Miss Edna Maxwin took over the running in 1987, for people with Old age and dementia. Her aim was to change people's perception of care homes and how people view their autumn years. We are now a 35 bed home specialising in care for those who suffer from dementia and associated behavioural issues that may cause challenges in an unsupervised setting. The operation of the home is designed to enable such residents to resume a more appropriate and desirable way of living that deals with their individual needs on a personal level. We provide safe environments that are adapted to the unique needs of the resident so that they can enjoy as much independence, mental and physical stimulation as possible. Miss Maxwin has now been joined in the ownership of the home by her son Chris Ochoa. With the support and interaction of local authorities, NHS and Healthcare professionals it is clear to see that perceptions HAVE changed and Hazelwell Lodge holds an important and respected position in the local community.

Just Things A Fair Trade Shop

JUST Things is Ilminster's fair trade shop where everything we sell is fairly traded. We are proud to say that we are now a member of the British Association for Fair Trade Shops and Suppliers.

This Autumn we have extended our range of gifts to include some lovely floor and table lamps as well as string lights from Zambala Arts who import them from Thailand. Two other new suppliers to us are Sunlover based in Frome and Greater Goods from Midsomer Norton. Sunlover supply us with table lamps, carved wooden horse heads and ornamental metal fish, all from Indonesia. The perfumed sachets from Greater Goods are made in India and the papier mache piggy banks and bowls are from Swaziland.

Our favourite toy supplier, Lanka Kade, have added to their variety of painted wooden animals, which are popular either on their own or to augment the animals which are included in the lovely rainbow Noah's arks. The solid wood London bus has been restyled and there is now a smaller version of the natural wood Noah's ark.

Don't forget your chocolate Real Christmas Advent calendars, Christmas cards and Divine chocolate.

Minster Electrical Contractors

MINSTER Electrical Contractors were established in March 2010 by Craig Stuckey. Starting at the Somerset College of Arts and Technology taking on a one day a week course working towards his technical qualifications.

Craig then attended local Electrical training centre P and R Hurt in Yeovil to undertake his pre-training for his final practical to become qualified electrician the AM2 exam, and then attended another training centre, Clarkson Evans, in Cheltenham to obtain his NVQ 3 qualification. Once these were accomplished he has returned to P and R Hurt to obtain his 2382 electrical regulations exam, and recently has returned again to get the 2391 test and inspection qualification.

Working for an electrical contracting business in Somerton for a year before they unfortunately went out of business, after this Craig moved to a local contractor who he worked for until starting Minster Electrical Contractors back in March. Craig has six years experience in the electrical contracting business undertaking many tasks in the electrical trade, mainly a domestic electrician over the years having experience from the simplest of tasks to the most demanding ones.

Having started the business it is now fully recognised in the local area, have joined NAPIT (Trade association) and also become part of Trustmark a government backed scheme that supports quality at work. More information for these can be found from the links. So after a successful first part of a year, you can be sure to know that Minster Electrical Contractors are here to stay and will become a more prominent company in the local area.

In good Taste

A CORNISH dance company is bringing a hilarious production inspired by the tapestries of Grayson Perry to The Warehouse Theatre, Ilminster on Friday, November 20th at 7.30pm.

Taste, which is produced by Cscape is a delicious romp of a show with humour, irreverence and playfulness at its heart. It asks what's behind our choices? What defines our identity? Do we really fall into "social tribes" and if so, how far up the social ladder is our tribe? Can we climb higher?

"I wanted to make a show that would explore what we mean by taste and class" says Cscape's artistic director Sally Knight. "Grayson Perry's tapestries and the accompanying TV series around social class were a huge inspiration for me and I thought it would be really interesting to create a piece of work that gets audiences talking and thinking about their own tastes".

Blending dance choreographed by Sally Knight (Cscape, Kneehigh) and Neil Paris (Fabulous Beast) and writing from Murray Lachlan Young, Taste explores what defines our identity and ponders the intricacies behind our choices.

Tickets are £9 (concessions £8, children £7) from Lanes Garden Shop, Silver Street, Ilminster, or by calling 07943 779880.

Let Praises Resound!

FOLLOWING a highly successful collaboration last year, Axminster and Yeovil Chamber Choirs will be reuniting to perform a concert entitled "Resonet in laudibus - Let praises resound" at the beginning of December.

In all, over 40 local singers will take part in the concerts, which will be directed by Peter Parshall who is guest director for both groups.

"The choirs and audiences so enjoyed our joint concerts last year, that we decided to do it again" says Peter. "Many of the pieces to be performed have eight voice parts, so it is ideal to be able to combine two small chamber ensembles, enabling us to bring out the richness and variety to be found in these Baroque and Romantic pieces."

Music by Mendelssohn, Brahms, Rheinberger, Hassler and Praetorius, amongst others, will feature during the concerts, which take place at 7.30pm on Wednesday, December 2nd in South Pether-ton Parish Church TA13 5DY and at 3pm on Sunday, December 6th in St Mary's Church (The Minster), Axminster EX13 5AQ.

Tickets cost £10 (to include refreshments), and are available on the door at both venues.

Top class drama at Shute

Review: Journey's End, Shute Church, October 28th-31st 2015.

By Nigel Freathy

"JOURNEY'S END" by R.C. Sherriff was written ten years after the First World War ended and is a brilliant play about life in the trenches. It is full of drama and profound comment about war and about people. It is not an easy play for an amateur drama group to put on, not least because it requires ten men and most of them are supposed to be young. Most of our drama groups are relatively short of such folk. It is a great credit to director Elisabeth Miller's skills as a diplomatist that she managed to persuade ten men of such ability to take part and to her skills as a director that the fact that many of the men were more mature than Sherriff required did not detract from the enjoyment of the play.

Shute Church was effectively transformed into a First World War dug out and the play was acted against a background of rumbles, explosions and general noise of war. The costumes were first class and the lighting very fitting for the various scenes.

The play is full of characters and it is the interconnection and relationships between these characters that is part of what the play is about. It is also a very telling analysis of what war is about and what it can do to people. Remarkable too for 1928 the play is quite an attack on war and those that propel us into it.

The main character is Captain Stanhope whose bravery has won him the Military Cross and who is regarded as a natural leader. However his success is very dependent on his high consumption of whiskey and this is a fact that he wants to keep from those back home. Towards the end of the play he makes it clear that he disagrees with the command of the war by the generals and we see his intense humanity as he comforts one of the characters in the play who is dying. This part was most effectively played by Tim Pritchard. He was able to show a range of emotions and use his voice most cleverly both to be angry and to be tender.

His second in command is the more mature in years Lieutenant Osborne played by Ian Craig. His was a superb performance. He conveyed to us a most likeable, trustworthy, humane, brave officer - just as Sherriff had intended.

Simon Hurst played the part of 2nd Lieutenant Raleigh who is meant to be boyish, naïve, innocent and eager to please yet also resilient, physically tough and capable. He represents the naïve believer in the kind of glorious war put forward in the propaganda at home used to recruit soldiers. Despite being older than Sherriff intended Simon gave a brilliant performance which was utterly convincing.

Experienced STAG member Simon Ford gave a marvellous performance as the frightened 2nd Lieutenant Hibbert who feigned illness in order to try to go home. The scene in which he broke down in hysterics in front of Stanhope was very good.

2nd Lieutenant Trotter comes from a very different background to the other officers. He is a very brave and capable soldier but less sophisticated, more fun. Tucker Stephens portrayed the character very well.

Another STAG stalwart Richard Stenning played the Colonel who acts in control but lacks sensitivity. He speaks as if he views war as a game. He lacks humanity and is more worried about getting into trouble himself. Richard was every bit the officer.

Mike Dowling played the part of Captain Hardy who is the one who hands over to Stanhope at the beginning of their six day shift. He provides a contrast to Stanhope, showing Stanhope as a superior officer. He is messy and disorganised. Mike's first class performance helped to get the play off to a good start at a quick pace.

Raymond Seward was very funny as the servant Private Mason who waited on the officers. Raymond is a master at comic timing and delivers all his lines really well. The audience looked forward to his every entry.

Mick Holdsworth was a very convincing Sergeant Major, Tim Love played the part of Lance Corporal Broughton and Mike Dowling doubled up as a German soldier.

There was not a weak link in the whole production. It was a tribute to the whole cast that at the end you could have heard a pin drop and all the audience felt emotionally drained.

Elisabeth Miller is to be congratulated on another brilliant production for STAG.

Review - The Beatles #1

EVERY Christmas there seems to be some sort of "new" offering from The Beatles on the market, writes JAMES COLES.

A couple of years ago there was a second volume of rather inessential recordings made for BBC radio, and last year the back catalogue was resequenced into its American configuration with the release of The US Albums box set.

But this year the Fabs have served up a real treat which both the casual fan and completist alike will find hard to resist.

The hugely successful #1 compilation from 15 years ago - which features all of the 27 number ones The Beatles had on both sides of the Atlantic - has been revisited. And there are two big reasons to buy the album again.

Firstly, the collection now comes with a DVD (or blu-ray for a couple of quid more) which boasts a video for each track - either a contemporary live performance or one of the band's wonderfully idiosyncratic promos.

High def

THE picture quality on the early videotaped studio performances has been cleaned up as best as you could hope. But the footage shot on proper 35mm film now looks nothing short of stunning (and that's HD stunning if you splash out on the blu-ray).

The charming sibling-like chemistry between John and Paul is there for all to see on 'We Can Work It Out', so too the Pepper-fuelled madness of 'Hello Goodbye' through to the public farewell of 'Get Back', shot on the rooftop of the band's Apple Corps headquarters - in fact, it's all there.

Much of the footage is warmly familiar and it's odd how it's taken so long for Apple to compile it this way. Selected videos also come with intros from Ringo and commentaries from Paul - it's literally fab stuff.

And if that wasn't enough, the deluxe version adds an extra DVD/blu-ray packed with another 23 clips, including alternate versions of some of the videos found on the first disc (watch The Beatles enjoy fish and chips rather than mess about with the gym equipment on the set of 'I Feel Fine') and promos for the likes of 'Strawberry Fields Forever' which, incredibly, never made it to number one in either the UK or the US, so wasn't included on the original release of #1.

Remastering vs remixing

But the second reason this is an essential purchase is the sound. The band's entire catalogue has been remastered a couple of times - firstly in 1987 for its initial release on CD and again in 2009 for its debut on iTunes - but remixing The Beatles? Well, that's another story.

With the exception of the 1999 Yellow Submarine "Songtrack" (created for the spruced-up re-release of The Beatles' groundbreaking animated feature) and 2006's Love (the crazy mash-up which soundtracks Cirque du Soleil's Las Vegas show of the same name), remixing has been a no-go.

Despite the fact that the stereo mixes were often a rushed afterthought - all Beatles 7"s were only pressed in mono until 1969 - they were still seen as sacred and all re-releases had to stay as faithful as possible to the original. Thankfully, that's no longer the case.

But purists can rest easy as no less than Giles Martin - yes, the son of the band's legendary producer, George - is at the control desk.

Nothing much can be done with some of the earlier material - recorded on rudimentary 1940s equipment and seemingly "locked" in mono forever - whilst the later tracks were always mixed with stereo in mind and need little tweaking.

So it's The Beatles' mid-period that benefits the most and, boy, does it benefit.

Although the DVD/blu-ray boasts surround sound mixes, few make much use of the 5.1 palette - it's all about these new stereo mixes.

Headphones experience

Sure, you might not notice much listening to the new mixes in your car, but pop on your headphones and, well, as Mr Kite might have said, "a splendid time is guaranteed for all!"

Vocals are moved into the middle of the soundscape, making for a far more modern feel.

Mistakes, like the artificial double-tracking 'on' button staying in place a second too long between the opening refrain and first verse of 'Eleanor Rigby', are corrected.

Even a real rocker like 'Paperback Writer' sounds better; the original mix had the entire right channel cut out for five whole seconds after the opening lines had been delivered - making the listener wonder if they'd gone temporarily deaf in one ear - and, in comparison, the drums sounded slightly muddy, occasionally lost in the ether.

But now the sound is fuller, the backing vocals sound like a heavenly choir and that guitar riff - never a slouch in the first place - rocks like it was laid down yesterday. Oh, and the bass line - you know, the one so powerful EMI worried it was going to make the stylus bounce off the vinyl - is the icing on the cake.

The stereo is less extreme than the old school "chalk and cheese" 60s way of mixing but far more effective.

Skip forward a couple of tracks and listen out for the way the piccolo simply dances along during the intro to 'Penny Lane' - it's never sounded this good since it was recorded at Abbey Road.

This is more than dusting off the cobwebs; there's stuff that was always there, it's just that now you can actually hear it.

Throw all those "mini movies" into the package and this is something any fan of pop music - let alone The Beatles - should have in their collection.

WE NEED YOUR PROPERTY!

Yes - it's been another strange year in our little local housing market. The press keeps telling us that property prices are going up and demand is high. In our beautiful rural part of the country (as in many other rural parts), we have a very different state of affairs with a different set of circumstances that dictate our activity. The Spring and early summer were poor this year, the election playing its part, and we have seen the most activity during the oddest times of the year with February and October being our best months for sales. As a result, we urgently require more properties in all price ranges. We can promise that you will get value for money from us as we work very hard for our client (the seller), so if you have been contemplating a move, please give me a call and I will be delighted to provide a market appraisal on your property - with no obligation of course.

Westcountry Chimney Services

WESTCOUNTRY Chimney Services are a professional company based in East Devon providing chimney services throughout Devon, Dorset and parts of Somerset.

Trained by the Guild of Master Chimney Sweeps, proving commitment to the chimney industry and demonstrating this commitment and professionalism by taking the time to pass the Guilds assessment.

We are fully insured and will supply a certificate for every flue swept.

Advice will be given on areas such as correct ventilation as this will help to improve the efficiency and safety of the appliance.

It is extremely important to regularly sweep your chimney flue to prevent soot build up within the flue which can cause a chimney fire.

Soot build up can cause damage to the flue, not only reducing the efficiency of the appliance but can cause dangerous fumes such as carbon monoxide leaking into your home thus why regular sweeping is imperative.

Included in our service:

An inspection of the flue will take place to check condition and see if there is any obstruction or damage to the flue, then

The appliance will be checked for any damage such as cracks and corrosion of the seals.

The flue will be swept using the correct equipment and all fall out will be cleaned up and removed.

Finally a smoke test will be done to confirm the appliance is drawing efficiently.

All prevention will be taken to stop any soot getting on to carpets or furnishings by the use of dust sheets, protective foot ware and a commercial vacuum. Westcountry services do a wide range of chimney flues including woodburners, range cookers, Agas and inglenooks.

A great car made better

MG'S TRENDY MG3 has just got even better with the introduction of new technology; designed to give better economy and lower emissions.

The MG3 2016 MY (model year), which will be available to buy next week, offers customers better fuel consumption, lower tax and an updated personalisation range; which includes the launch of new combinations and roof colours. The supermini, which now benefits from a more economical 124g/km of CO2 and a stop-start EU6 engine, also comes with a new chrome grille to complement the MG family face.

Customers who are looking to make their car even more unique, and really stand out from the crowd, will be pleased to hear that the MG3's Red Rose and Hello Yellow paints are now available with selected roof colour combinations; white or black.

Matthew Cheyne, Head of Sales and Marketing for MG, said: "The MG3 has continued its success from the day it launched in 2013 and, with all that it offers, it's easy to see why so many people have fallen for our fun-packed and stylish supermini. Now we're giving customers a little bit more, with the addition of some great features, but still keeping the price low; making it great value for money and setting us apart from our competitors.

"Those looking to give their car additional style and edge will love our new roof combinations, as they give customers the opportunity to mix up the personalisation options even more."

The MG3 EU6 is the latest car to be launched from the Longbridge site and demonstrates the continued innovation emerging from the Birmingham based manufacturer.

Customers can choose from the four models available, all priced as nicely as the car itself: MG3 3Time (from £8,399); MG3 3Form (from £9,599); MG3 3Form Sport (from £9,899); MG3 3Style (from £10,499); and MG3 3Style Lux, which comes with the addition of leather seats (from £10,999). The MG3 2016 is available on 0% finance, so book a test drive at your local dealer now and find out what this much-loved supermini has to offer.

Luxurious new Mercedes-Benz GLS now available to order in the UK

THE NEW seven-seat luxury SUV, the Mercedes-Benz GLS, is now available to order, priced from £69,100 OTR, ahead of first UK deliveries in March 2016.

The new GLS sets standards as the 'S-Class among SUVs'. This seven-seater premium SUV combines luxury with comfort, agile dynamics and best-in-class safety. The new GLS features improved efficiency, extended DYNAMIC SELECT transmission modes, the latest AIRMATIC air suspension system with ADS adaptive damping system, a nine-speed 9G-TRONIC automatic transmission, state-of-the-art driver assistance systems and the latest telematics with internet access.

Three models are available in the UK: the GLS 350d 4MATIC AMG Line, the GLS 350d 4MATIC designo Line and the new Mercedes-AMG GLS 63 4MATIC.

The standard specification is comprehensive and includes the latest generation of COMAND Online including an 8-inch screen and touchpad; AIRMATIC air suspension with adaptive damping; LED Intelligent Light System with Adaptive High-beam Assist Plus; leather upholstery; memory front seats; Harmon Kardon Logic 7 surround sound system; panoramic electric sunroof; parking package with 360° camera; lane tracking package including Blind Spot Assist and Lane Keeping Assist; Keyless-Go comfort package; THERMOTRONIC climate control with three zones; three-colour ambient lighting; and heated seats in the front two rows.

The designo Line brings even more luxurious appointments, including designo nappa leather upholstery with diamond pattern quilting; heated and cooled front seats; a heated steering wheel; four-zone climate control including the third row of seats; temperature-controlled cup holders; and interior air ionisation with filter. Also included is the Active Curve System, which uses active suspension stabilisers to help reduce the rolling motion of the vehicle in mid- and high-speed bends. It also helps increase axle articulation off-road.

The interior can be further personalised at no extra cost with a choice of five different leather upholstery colours in the AMG Line or two luxurious designo Exclusive nappa leather options in the designo Line. Customers can choose from four wood trim finishes (brown open-pore ash, high-gloss brown burr walnut, high-gloss brown eucalyptus, black poplar) or aluminium trim at no cost, with cost options including black piano lacquer and AMG carbon-fibre with black piano lacquer (combined).

The GLS 350d uses a 3.0-litre V6 diesel engine, which produces 258 hp and 620 Nm of torque, and emits 199 g/km of CO₂ (down from 209 g/km). The 9G-TRONIC nine-speed automatic gearbox is standard, making for greater efficiency and smoother shifts, as well as DYNAMIC SELECT driving modes.

An optional off-road package for the 350d adds a centre differential lock; low-range gearbox; extra modes for the DYNAMIC SELECT system and three additional heights for the suspension, to increase ground clearance to 306 mm and wading depth to up to 600 mm. Also included are underbody protection panels, and an off-road function for the headlights.

With a peak output of 585 hp and peak torque of 760 Nm from just 1,750 rpm, the 5.5-litre bi-turbo V8 in the GLS 63 offers even more power (+28 hp), more dynamism and higher equipment levels than before. Standard features include a revised AMG SPEEDSHIFT PLUS 7G-TRONIC transmission with AMG DYNAMIC SELECT transmission modes which provide optimum flexibility, and rear-biased AMG Performance all-wheel drive.

The styling now incorporates the latest Mercedes-Benz look. The new front end includes distinctive power domes on the bonnet, while among changes at the rear are more prominent tailpipes. Interior highlights include a newly-designed instrument panel, a new three-spoke multifunction steering wheel, and a modified centre console with touchpad.

The AMG Line includes distinctive front and rear bumpers, illuminated side running boards, and 21-inch AMG light-alloy wheels. The optional Night package makes for an even more exclusive look, with high-gloss black details including the louvres in the radiator grille, door mirrors and roof rails.

The revised interior offers a spacious environment for up to seven passengers, with boot volume of 295 (all seats in place), 680 (third-row seats folded) or 2300 litres (all rear seats folded), in a load compartment that is up to 2124 mm long and with a payload capacity of up to 815 kg.

Driver assistance systems fitted as standard include COLLISION PREVENTION ASSIST PLUS; Crosswind Assist; ATTENTION ASSIST; PRE-SAFE system; Brake Assist BAS; electronic all-wheel drive traction system 4ETS; ESP with Curve Dynamic Assist; cruise control with variable SPEEDTRONIC speed limiter and the STEER CONTROL steering assist function.

The optional Driving Assistance package Plus brings systems including DISTRONIC PLUS with Stop&Go Pilot; PRE-SAFE

Brake with pedestrian detection; BAS PLUS with Cross-Traffic Assist; Active Blind Spot Assist; Active Lane Keeping Assist and PRE-SAFE PLUS.

Optimum protection potential is provided by the passive occupant protection systems together with the 'electronic crumple zones' of the assistance systems and the intelligent body design. Adaptive, two-stage airbags for driver and front passenger, kneebag for the driver (combined thorax/pelvisbags) and windowbags above all three seat rows are also part of the standard specification, among other features.

With DYNAMIC SELECT, the new GLS provides up to six transmission modes. In addition to COMFORT, SLIPPERY and SPORT modes, the driver can choose INDIVIDUAL or OFF-ROAD modes (the optional Off-Road package adds OFF-ROAD+ mode).

The GLS is available to order now, with deliveries starting from March 2016.

Local Sport – football round-up

Darts blunted by seven-goal Tigers

Home form eludes Fishermen – Keeper on target for Hawks

MATCH REPORTS

Axminster Town 7
Totnes & Dartington 0

SW Peninsula League D1 (E)

THE heavy rain caused havoc with this weekend's fixtures but Axminster hosted Totnes & Dartington with the new drainage system at Tiger Way holding up well.

After seeing off a high-tempo start from the visitors, Axminster took the lead in the 11th minute when Ben Turner netted with a fine downward header.

The goal seemed to breed confidence in the Tigers and eight minutes later new signing Luke Finn was fouled, but the ball fell to Jonny Hurford who scored at the second attempt after his initial effort had been parried.

Finn's strong front running caused Totnes defence problems and his cross was finished by the on-rushing Liam Cleal for 3-0 after 25 minutes.

The visitors were now in tatters and Axminster bagged a fourth when a free kick from near the halfway line was the headed in to his own net by an under pressure Totnes defender giving keeper Danny Wood no chance.

The Tigers were dominant, and it was no surprise when they scored again just before the interval. Keeper Scott Wells-Burr's long kick up field was flicked on by Finn for Tony Pinder to race onto and lob the stranded Wood from all of 30 yards.

Totnes offered very little but there was more to come from Axminster.

Turner headed home from a corner for the Tigers' sixth goal and Pinder tapped home number seven to complete a comprehensive victory and move Ax back up to fourth place.

BEER ALBION 0 EXWICK VILLAGE 4
D&E Premier Division
A 4-0 DEFEAT at the hands of Exwick Villa means the Fishermen have still yet to pick up a league point at the Furzebrake which is usually considered a tough place for visitors to get a result.

Despite competing well and creating chances for a good deal of the match, Beer were undone by some poor defending.

For the first 30 minutes there was nothing to choose between the sides as they both struggled to come to terms with the windy conditions.

Then, out of nothing, Exwick took the lead. Beer conceded a free kick on the edge of the penalty area which was put away hard and low into Westlake's left hand corner raising a question about the positioning of the home side's defensive wall.

The Fishermen bounced back and almost grabbed the equaliser when Wakely headed just wide after a good interchange with Richard Walker.

But Exwick struck a crucial blow on the stroke of half time after a defensive slip by the Fishermen.

Beer needed to respond quickly after the break but were unable to get a foothold and Exwick piled on the pressure. On 48 minutes, Westlake was at full stretch to tip away a fierce cross but Villa were starting to run riot with left-winger Steve Morris particularly impressive.

It was Morris who laid on the visitors 3rd goal on 50 minutes with a mazy run and cross which was slotted home from the edge of the six-yard box.

After the introduction of Luke Bartlett, Beer produced a good 15 minute spell and on another day the industrious Seth Wakely might have had a hat-trick.

First, he made a good run down the left but his finish hit the side netting and then slick interplay between Walker and Bartlett put Wakely through but the luckless striker was foiled once again by keeper McLean.

But on 74 minutes Exwick wrapped up the game with a scrappy fourth goal, after the Fishermen's defence failed several times to clear their lines. Match sponsor Mrs Sheila Driver nominated Beer keeper Westlake as her MoM.

Next Saturday Beer Albion travel to Exwick for the return fixture whilst Beer Reserves entertain Starcross Generals at the Furzebrake in a Division 5 encounter, kick-off 2.15 pm.

Match sponsor is the Anchor Inn, Fore Street, Beer.

D&E round-up with Collin Goodwin

NEWCOMERS CRANBROOK stole the limelight with their 2-1 victory at SOUTH ZEAL in the third round of the Devon Intermediate cup.

'The Brook' who are still unbeaten, scored through James Burt and Karl Sugg to clinch a place in the last 16.

Also through are OTTERTON who will face Millwey Rise after beating THE WINCHESTER 4-3. Si Tuley, Matt Thomas, Lee Mitchell and Matt Lidstone with their 90th minute equaliser at 2-2 were the rollers marksmen.

Last season's beaten Devon Senior cup finalists LAPFORD took another step towards repeating their dream when they beat First Division WITHERIDGE 5-3. A Harry Leach hat-trick and a Mark Tucker brace won it for the third division team.

HENRY'S CRONIES won 2-1 against HONITON TOWN RESERVES after the pair agreed to switch their match to Broadclyst as Honiton's Mountbatten Park was waterlogged.

Liam Carey and skipper Tiernan West scored for the Cronies after they had fallen behind.

EXMOUTH AMATEURS powered into the next round with a crushing 7-0 win against HEMYOCK. Jamie Williams netted twice the others coming from Josh Hill, Danny Dawson, Carly Watts, Dan Tapp and Lee Hill.

NEWTON surprised COLYTON 3-2 with Steve Kerswell, Ryan Wallis and Kyle Hall getting their goals, and CHERITON FITZPAINE won their tie against SAMPFORD PEVERELL 3-1 thanks to strikes from Dean Pidgeon, Neil Herd and Alex McDonald.

CULLOMPTON RANGERS were 5-0 winners at EAST BUDLEIGH with Jamie Cottrell breaking a mini drought with a hat-trick. Dan Horler had the other two.

An improving NORTH TAWTON were 2-1 winners at the LORDS XI in Division 4, but COUNTESS WEAR DYNAMOES and FLUXTON drew 1-1 in the other game played.

BEER ALBION were unable to field a side for their match at AWLISCOMBE.

BICKLEIGH won their Division Eight game at LYMPSTONE 5-2, and SIDMOUTH also won 5-2 at home to SANDFORD.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE

HAWKCHURCH remain a point clear in top spot with a 5-2 win at Ilminster Town Colts on a day when the leading three teams in Division One all recorded victories.

The Hawks took control early on and an OG followed by strikes from MoM Jamie Harris and Gavin Herrod, his 17th of the season had them 3-0 ahead.

Ollie Pearce added a fourth before the Colts scored either side of the interval to make it 4-2.

Regular keeper James Mitcham injured his arm in training and was therefore given a starting spot up top. And he showed his team mates just how it's done by rounding off the scoring.

Mitcham's replacement between the stocks Bradley Cross earned a mention from his manager Martin Bright.

The Hawks travel to Bridport to take on Pymore at St Mary's on Saturday (2.30ko).

Both FARWAY teams had their games washed out.

The first team visit Combe B at the weekend (2.30ko) while the Reserves are in John Fowler Cup round one action at Charmouth on Saturday (2pm).

The gala also gave some of the older members a chance to gain experience at officiating and marshalling. These were: Henry Taswell, Ben Greenslade, Ollie Bright, Jamie Pullinger and Simon Davis (Timekeeping) and Briana Barrand, Millie Downes and Tessa Down (Marshalling).

The club also recently held their final Club Gala of the year with a stunning total of 32 County Qualifying times and 100 personal best times recorded writes Mollie Simpson.

The Gala was however tinged with sadness as the Club's President and former Coach of 20 years John Farrant had passed away suddenly in September, and club members travelled to Chard Baptist Church to pay their respects in honouring John and his life, in a Service of Remembrance.

Axminster Leisure Leagues

JUST two teams left hold 100 percent records as the Axminster six-a-side league moves on.

Lads on Toure had to work hard to preserve their winning streak and Jacob Rose proved the difference as they squeaked home by the only goal against Creative Solutions.

The big winners were Rapid Viagra who hammered The Tools 6-0, although Tim Mitchell was at his best and led Two Goals One Klopp to a 3-1 win over Lokomotiv Sneaky Russians.

In Division One Tekkerslovakia are yet to drop a point and dismissed Carehomesouth-west 5-1 with Carl Wilson amongst the goals.

Uplyme & Sinker are tucked in just behind and "Cope-d" well this week, as James Cope took the eye in their 3-1 victory against Six Offenders.

The pick of the other games saw Millway Maddos edge out JCA by the odd goal in three.

Rain and high winds disrupts scores

CRICKET St THOMAS

with Bert Robinson
NINETEEN pairs of Senior entered the "Medal - Stableford" competition on Monday which was a difficult day for golf with strong winds and heavy conditions under foot.

Result: 1st Nick George & Martin Leigh 42, 2nd Barry Heath & Mick Hilson 47, 3rd Mike Mosser & Roger Withers 48.

Meanwhile, 49 Seniors entered the annual Turkey Trot medal competition on Wednesday.

A tight finish in Division One saw Danny Dowell and Alan Davis tie for first place with the former taking the spoils by virtue of a better back 9. Five members finished with nett 72.

In Division Two Bryan Frost emerged as the outright winner also with nett 71, which was four shots better than his competitors. Mike King and Brian Marsh battled King securing the place with a better back 9.

Heavy rain on Friday did not deter 30 Seniors from playing a 13-hole Texas Scramble competition, with the proceeds (£125) being donated to the Children in Need.

Ntly 2.6 shots separated the ten teams. Winners by just 0.1 was the team led by Alan Chance, with Rod Young's team finishing in second and Richard Forster's trio 0.24 shots behind in third.

Following the golf, the Seniors held their AGM, where Nick Hill took over as Captain for 2016. The Club raised £2000 for this years charity, "Meningitis Now".

HONITON with Liz Rogers

MEN'S SECTION
IN the Dartmoor League Division Two, the men recently travelled to Crediton to play Okehampton Golf finished runners-up and gained promotion.

On the day a close fought match went the way of Okehampton.

However, all was not lost as, in their first year in the league, Honiton did not come away empty handed after winning a trophy for the best away record in the league.

MIXED REPORT

TWENTY members were relieved that the recent rain had disappeared and although the course was wet, and muddy in places, the greens were very receptive.

The format was Stableford off full handicap - teams of four with Best Lady and Best Gents score on each hole to count.

The winners were Jane Watts and husband Mike playing with Sue & Paul Ritchie (79 points). Second place was taken by Lesley Farley, Cathy Uttley, John Frith & Chris Poole (76).

LADIES SECTION

HEAVY showers came down to make playing conditions more challenging for the Stableford competition.

Nevertheless, many ladies persevered, the winners were: Silver Division, Heather Clarke (34 points). Bronze One - Lesley Farley (33), followed by Diana Gee on (32). Bronze Two - Cherry Liell (28) points, Linda McLaughlin (24).

SENIORS SECTION

THE seniors turned out to play a 3 ball better ball event in rain, high winds, hail and a little sunshine. This may explain the relatively poor scoring.

With two scores to count, the winners were: Bill Eaton, Ron Armitage & Bill Spice on 68. Runners-up were Alan Morris, Mike Watts & Brian Morrison (67) points. Next up were John Frith, Rob Sexton & Norman Runciman with the last prizes going to Pat Purteall, Chris Street & John Pawley.

The Captain presented Mike Stroud with the Centenary Salver for the best performance in the summer medals, and our centegenarian member Ronnie Pew came along to present his trophy to Stan Squire for winning the Summer individual knockout competition, which Ronnie sponsors.

AXE CLIFF with Peter Motson

DESPITE very poor weather conditions 24 Seniors (including the 88-year-old 'youngster' Charles Whitbourn) managed to play all 18 holes of their Medford Trophy competition which, is played on Medal format for the first nine holes and Stableford format the last nine holes.

Bob Graham finished first with a superb score of 35. In 2nd was Tony Strong with 22) and 3rd was Nigel Garwood 24. Two 2s were recorded, one by Bob Graham and one by Bill Polley.

The Seniors section halved their Courtesy Trophy match with the Ladies section.

There were only four pairs on each side which was largely due to the cold, wet and very windy weather conditions. However, all 16 golfers completed the round

On the November 8th the Mens Section played their Winter League round 2. 1st was Alan Kenworthy (on back nine) with a nett 71, 2nd Simon Sweetland nett 71, 3rd was Alex Palmer nett 73 and 4th was Paul Clode with a nett 74.

A very nice putt from Simon Sweetland secured the only two.

Ayers brothers rock!

CHARD, Ilminster & District Amateur Boxing Club sent brothers Spencer and Mitchell Ayers to Saturday, November 7th.

Spencer had his third skills bout with a talented young boxer Jimmy Delaney from Small Holdings ABC.

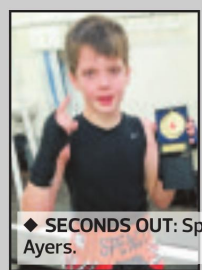

With skills bout there are no winners, the boxers just show case their talent.

Spencer performed well throughout and proved to be a real upcoming talent. Older brother, Mitchell fought a boy with great family boxing background. He lost his fight, but put up a brave challenge.

His nose had been injured in training earlier in week and this was his downfall on the night.

With five upcoming fights for boxers in the club over the coming weeks, it is already proving to be an exciting start to the season.

football: A view of the Glovers

Errors mean more points squandered

Yeovil Town 2 Stevenage 2
Skybet League 2 - att; 3,220

STUPID errors ensured Yeovil Town remian in the relegation zone.

After a dismal first half, Harry Cornick evaded three defenders before drilling home a 25-yarder.

A goal to the good they looked like taking the game on, but three minutes later Wes Fogden, who otherwise had a good game in midfield, needlessly pulled back Armand Gnanouillet wide on the left 25 yards from goal.

The resulting free kick saw Chris Weale, another who had a steady game including a superb save in the final moments, appeared to flap at the ball conceding a corner from which Dean Wells equalised.

It looked that all was not lost as Yeovil regained the lead three minutes later when Shaun Jeffers glanced home Matt Dolan's corner off.

With three minutes of normal time remaining the Glovers were unlucky not to have made the game safe when captain Ryan Dickson, on as sub, struck the base of the post from 20-yards. A minute later Nathan Smith gave away a unnecessary foul and Tom Pett headed home the resultant free kick

No excuse for ignorance

YOU would think especially in the current climate that Yeovil Town Football Club would be anxious not to upset their fans.

Chairman John Fry has gone on record as blaming the small attendances for the club's inability to buy better quality players, as part of the reason for their demise.

However for the club's representatives not to turn up at a function booked months in advance and not inform anyone smacks of ignorance.

The Bridport branch of The Green & White Supporters Club has over 30 loyal members who travel the width and breadth of the country supporting their beloved Glovers.

They have been going for some years and attend as many away games as their finances allow thanks in part to wonderful sponsorship from local businesses.

They always invite directors, members of the management to attend their annual dinner in November when a convenient date is agreed with the club.

As a member of the press and living in Bridport I was informed two months ago of the date, last Friday, and that manager Paul Sturrock and his assistants Terry Skiverton and Darren Way would be attending.

When the trio did not appear, a call was made to ensure they were okay and perhaps not had a problem en-route, only to be told that they would not be coming as they had been called to an urgent meeting.

Forty-eight hours later there has been no contact from the club to apologise.

Whatever the meeting; it appears that they weren't sacked; but the club could have maybe arranged for somebody else, a couple of players or other staff, to represent them, or at the least had the decency to have run them and apologised.

Hard earned point

Avonmouth Old boys 5 Chard 5
South West Division One

IN miserable conditions both sides did their best to put on a contest.

In the end the fact that this really tight affair ended all square was probably the right result, although Chard will feel that their dominant first half performance could well have given them all the points. Chard had a number of pre-match issues to resolve. The team's back division was decimated for a number reasons which included scrum half Ben Johnson out with injury, fly half Smith suddenly deciding to return home to New Zealand, as well as others not being available or getting lost!

In some ways the conditions actually benefited Chard with forwards Dave Biss, Luke Aplin and Mark Parsons revealing in the vile conditions.

Ryan Helliar, captaining the side in the absence of Mortensen, filled in as an emergency scrum half.

Once Chard settled down their forwards really dominated and spent a long time camped close to the home line eventually breaking through when number eight Parsons drove over for an unconverted touch down.

Chard started the second half well but missed several chances close to the home line. The pattern of the game changed when the hosts broke down the right and Joe Wearne scored in the corner. The conversion was missed but, with the scores now level, the momentum of the match switched to the hosts.

Chard defended really well and despite being pinned back in their half they did not look likely to being breached.

The forwards were immense with Max Gosden winning lots of line out ball and colt Jack Lacombe putting himself about effectively.

A good result for Chard in the circumstances and credit to the backs who came in and played competitively on a day when the conditions were totally unsuited to back play.

Next Saturday Chard are at home to Teignmouth (2.15pm ko).

North Petherton 3rd xv 7 Chard 3rd xv 28

CHARD 3rds got back to winning ways dominating proceedings throughout and scored three good tries in the opening half which came from Gavin Watts, Connor Moon and Paul Cornish.

The pick of these from Watts who beat several players before storming over the line.

With Stuart Gold announcing his retirement before the game Wayne Lewis took over the kicking duties for the team and kicked all three conversions with consummate ease.

In the second half Warren Lewis, not to be outdone by his dad, capped a good display by getting try number four but Lewis senior had the last word by slotting over another conversion.

Next Saturday Chard 2nd xv are at Bristol Harlequins and Chard 3rd xv entertain Morganians

Chard Colts 15 Minehead 10

Somerset Cup

IN the very heavy conditions at Crewkerne Road Chard colts kept up their winning run with a close victory against Minehead.

Ross Colenso and Joe Mainwaring scored first half tries but these were cancelled out by two similar efforts from Minehead. Kicking was very difficult so it was no surprise that all conversions were missed.

Chard had two possible tries disallowed in the second half when the referee judged that the ball had been held up.

With 15 minutes to go Chard made the decisive breakthrough when Murray Squires scored their third try which was again unconverted but gave his side a deserved victory. Clyde Moore was mentioned by Coach Duncan Nicholls as having had a very good game.

Colyton girls in national cross country finals

COLYTON Grammar School's junior team are through to the national final of the English Schools Athletics Association's Cross County Cup in Bedford on December 5th.

The team, which won their district qualifiers at Taunton last month, came third out of 11 competing in the Saturday's regional final held in extremely testing conditions at Leweston School, Sherborne.

Colyton's Caitlin Smith was first home in the 2.2KM race in 8min 54secs, four seconds clear of the pack.

A total of 1500 teams from 500 schools across the country originally entered the competition.

Result: 1st Charters School 30pts, Ascot, 2nd Millfield School, Glastonbury 44, 3rd COLYTON GRAMMAR 70, 4th Ivybridge College 76, 5th Lewesdon School, Sherborne 100, 6th Park House School, Newbury 104, 7th Queens College, Taunton 106, 8th Newquay Tretherras 122, 9th Queen Anne's, Reading 132, 10th Parkstone Grammar, Poole 136, 11th Taunton Prep 154.

Colyton Individual results (first four to count): Caitlin Smith (1st - 8:54), Izzy Steele (12th - 9:32), Marnie Broomby (23rd 9:54), Justine Rannou (34th 10:11), Lydia Boyd (54th 11:08), Milly Kendall (56th 11:12). There were 65 runners.

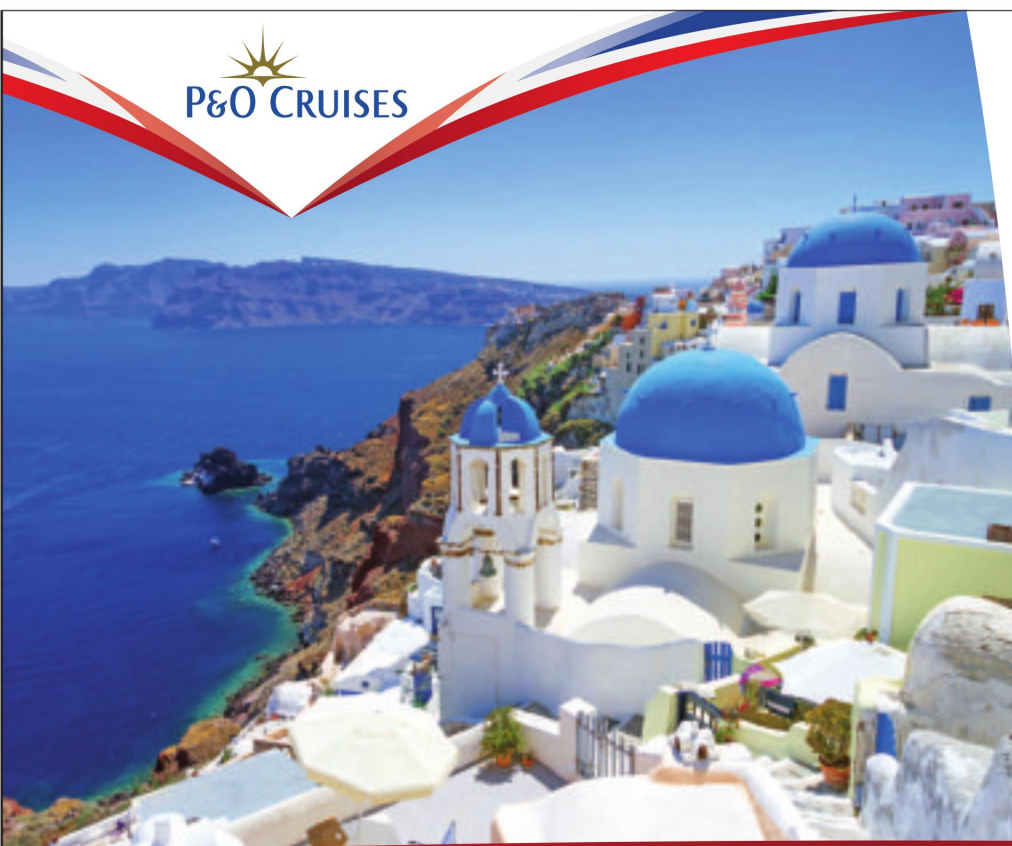

Watching parent Sarah Steele said: "The conditions were the worst that our daughter (Izzy) has raced in, and she's been racing XC races for some time since primary school at Stockland - muddy, slippery, torrential rain and high winds are an understatement!"

Sadly the School's Junior boys team were knocked out of the competition when they finished in sixth place overall despite a fine third place finish by Johnny Livingstone (9:05).
